

Harvard Student Exclusive Seminar

The Art of Confidence: From Interviews to Life

Dear Parents and Students,

Meritus Academy will be hosting an exclusive seminar — “The Art of Confidence: How to Express Yourself Confidently in Interviews.”

The speaker is our distinguished alumnus Kevin Wu, who studied at our school from Grade 3 to Grade 11. He has been admitted to Harvard University through Early Action this year. Kevin grew from a shy child into the first Asian Student Council President at St. Paul’s School, which is an America private school, gaining extensive experience in leadership and interviews.

In this seminar, Kevin will share:

- The importance of confidence: how to present your best self in school, leadership, and college applications
- Interview essentials: telling your story in a way that engages and persuades
- Practical strategies: from everyday interactions to high-stakes interviews
- Interactive practice: live mock interviews with immediate feedback

Whether you are preparing for a private school interview, a leadership position, or a future college application, this seminar will help you learn how to speak with confidence and express your ideas clearly.

The following are the seminar details:

- Date & Time: Sunday, August 17, 7:30-8:30 PM (in-person)
Tuesday, August 19, 7:30-8:30 PM (online)
- Location: In-person - Meritus Academy; Online – Zoom
- Target Audience: Grade 8-12 students looking to improve confidence and communication skills
- Fee: In-person - $15/person; Online - $10/person

If you are interested in the seminar, please click here to register.

We look forward to seeing you at the seminar and helping you turn confidence into your greatest advantage in interviews and beyond.

Best regards,

Meritus Academy